ginning to practise nursing every such registered nurse shall cause such certificate to be recorded in the county clerk's office of the county of his or her residence with an affidavit of his or her identity as the person to whom the same was so issued and of his or her place of residence within such county. In every 36th month from the month of January 1906, every registered nurse shall again cause his or her certificate to be recorded in the said county clerk's office with an affidavit of his or her identity as the person to whom the same was issued and of his or her place of residence at the time of such registration. Nothing contained in this article shall be considered as conferring any authority to practise medicine or to undertake the treatment or cure of disease in violation of article 8 of this chapter.

§ 251 Board of examiners; examination; fees. The board of examiners of nurses appointed pursuant to Laws of 1903, chapter 293, is continued. The New York State Nurses Association at each annual meeting shall nominate for examiners two of their members who have had not less than five years' experience in their profession.

Upon the expiration of the term of office of any examiner now in office the Regents of The University of the State of New York shall from the candidates so nominated fill the vacancy for a term of five years and until his or her successor is chosen. An unexpired term of an examiner caused by death, resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by the Regents in the same manner as an original appointment is made. The said Regents, with the advice of the board of examiners above provided for, shall make rules for the examination of nurses applying for certification under this article, and shall charge for examination and for certification a fee of $5 to meet the actual expenses, and shall report annually their receipts and expenditures under the provisions of this article, to the State Comptroller, and pay the balance of receipts over expenditures to the State Treasurer. The said Regents may revoke any such certificate for sufficient cause after written notice to the holder thereof and hearing thereon. No person shall thereafter practise as a registered nurse under any such revoked certificate.

§ 252 Waiver of examinations. The Regents of The University of the State of

New York may upon the recommendation of said board of examiners, or upon evidence satisfactory to said Regents, waive the examination of any persons possessing the qualifications mentioned in section 250, who shall have been graduated before, or who were in training on the 24th day of April 1903, and shall thereafter be graduated, and of such persons now engaged in the practice of nursing and who have had six years' experience in the practice of nursing in a general hospital prior to 1903, who make application in writing for such certificate prior to July 1, 1913.

§ 253 Violations of this article. Any violation of this article shall be a misdemeanor. When any prosecution under this article is made on the complaint of the New York State Nurses Association, the certificate of incorporation of which was filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State on the second day of April 1902, the fines collected shall be paid to said association and any excess in the amount of fines so paid over the expenses incurred by said association in enforcing the provisions of this article shall be paid at the end of each year to the Treasurer of the State of New York.

The issuance of the certificate of registered nurse

The certificate of registered nurse may be issued to a candidate who

a Pays a fee of $5.

b Submits evidence that she is more than 21 years of age, a legal resident of the State of New York and of good moral character.

c Meets the preliminary and professional requirements.

d Passes the examination, or meets the requirement of the statute under the waiver.

Preliminary requirement. The preliminary requirement consists in the successful completion of one year of approved work in a secondary school, or the equivalent, prior to the beginning of the professional course.

Training schools registered by the Regents of the University shall require of each applicant for admission credentials showing the successful completion of at least a course of one year in a secondary school or its equivalent. Evidence of such training in the case of each pupil admitted must be filed with the Education Department as a basis for the recognition of such pupil as a member of the training school.

Professional requirement. A candidate must present evidence of at least two years' study in a registered nurse training school with graduation therefrom.

Comity of action in the transfer of students from one professional school to another. The Department does not consider a course in a nurse training school satisfactory within the meaning of the public health law, article 12, Registration of nurses, section 250, if more than two conditions, one major of 100 hours and one minor of 50 hours, are allowed students for promotion from one year's class to the next.

Certificate under the waiver. A candidate who was graduated from a registered nurse training school prior to April 24, 1903 or who was in training on that date, and who later completed a course and received a diploma, may, on the recommendation of the Board of Nurse Examiners, receive the certificate of registered nurse without examination.

Examinations. Two examinations are held annually, one in January or February and the other in June at places prescribed by the Department for examinations in other professions. Applications must be made at least ten days in advance to the Department.

Male nurses will be examined on genito-urinary work as a substitute for obstetric cases. The practical demonstration will be conducted by a member of the board of examiners.

An applicant for examination must be a resident of the State and a graduate of a registered training school. The examination includes both a practical demonstration and a written test. The examination includes questions on the following: (1) elementary bacteriology, (2) elementary materia medica, (3) elementary anatomy and physiology, (4) diet cooking, (5) medical nursing including contagious diseases, (6) surgical nursing including gynecology, (7) obstetrical nursing, (8) nursing in children's diseases, (9) genito-urinary (for men).

An applicant failing in not more than two topics but having a general average of 75 per cent receives a certificate, but no standing under 50 per cent will be accepted even toward an average.

An applicant failing in not more than three topics may take a subsequent examination in the three topics and on passing two of the three may receive a certificate, provided the third subject is passed at 50 per cent or above. An applicant failing in two of the three topics must take the three over.

Requirements for registration of training schools for nurses

In the State of New York a training school for nurses or the institution of which it is a department must be incorporated by the Regents (Laws of 1907, ch. 646). It will be inspected by the Education Department upon receipt of a formal application for registration, which shows that it possesses the minimum requirements.

For registration, a nurses training school must be connected with a hospital (or sanatorium) having not less than 50 beds and a daily average of 30 patients. Each bed must meet the requirements of the State Board of Charities as to air space. The hospital should provide experience in the following departments of nursing: medical, surgical, obstetrical and pediatric. Training schools connected with hospitals not providing adequate opportunities for experience in all the above departments must become affiliated with institutions approved as giving such experience.

Training schools for nurses registered by the Regents shall provide both practical and theoretical instruction in the following branches of nursing: (1) medical nursing (including materia medica), (2) surgical nursing with operative technic including gynecological, (3) obstetrical nursing (each pupil to have had the care of not less than six cases), (4) nursing of sick children, (5) diet cooking for the sick including (a) 12 lessons in cooking in a good technical school or with a competent diet teacher, (b) food values, and feeding in special cases, to be taught in classes, not by lectures, (6) a thorough course of theoretical instruction in contagious nursing where practical experience is impossible, (7) bacteriology.

Training schools for male nurses shall provide instruction in genito-urinary branches in place of gynecological and obstetrical nursing.

The period of instruction in the training schools must be not less than two full years, during which time students shall not be utilized to care for patients outside of a hospital. Training schools giving a three-year course and wishing to continue the practice of utilizing their pupils to earn money for the hospital may send them out to private cases or for district work among the poor for a period not exceeding three months in the third year of their course. But training schools with a two-year course wishing to continue the practice must extend their course to meet the above requirement [see Education Department Bulletin 498, Course of Study and Syllabus.]

Inspection. The Department inspects all registered schools of the State and others on formal application for registration or incorporation.

Training schools for nurses are registered by the Regents on formal application only and a form for this purpose will be mailed on application to the Assistant Commissioner for Higher Education. The professional education requirement and the general preliminary education requirement of the institution must be considered by him fully equivalent to the requirements established by the statute.

Nurse training schools unable to meet the standards required by the Regents for registration in full shall be accredited by the Department for one or more years of professional training as they meet the requirements for admission and for professional training required by the Regents standards.

Recognition accorded accredited professional schools. Professional schools registered by the Regents shall give the work of accredited institutions no higher recognition than that accorded such institutions in the Department's accredited list, namely: (1) the successful completion of a four-year course in a professional school accredited by the Department for three years shall be accorded three years' recognition only; (2) the successful completion of a three-year course in a professional school accredited by the Department for two years shall be accorded two years' recognition only; (3) the successful completion of a two-year course in a professional school accredited by the Department for one year shall be accorded one year's recognition only.

A registered school may refuse to accord an accredited institution the recognition given it by the Department but it may not give it any higher recognition. The diploma from a registered school only may be recognized for entering the examinations for registered nurse. The following list, arranged by states, contains the names of institutions registered by the Regents or accredited by the Department. The amount of credit that will be allowed for graduation from each institution not formally registered is given in years in each case.
